TAFT WILL VETO STATEHOOD BILL

President Centering Efforts on Message to Congress.

OBJECTS TO RECALL PROVISION

New Mexico and Arizona Not to Be come States as Long as Recall of Judges Provision Remains in Constitution.

Washington, Aug. 10.—For the next few summer evenings, when President Taft will be working in the White house study with Secretary Hilles, his efforts will be centered upon a message to congress vetoing the statehood bill.

It was learned definitely that he will veto the bill because of the provision for the recall of the judiciary. He will write a message to congress to send along with the veto which will register in no uncertain terms his absolute and uncompromising opposition to any plan which will place the judiciary of the country under threat of recall.

It is possible that congress will override his veto. House leaders say that this will be done in that body. The vote in the senate, 56 to 18, by which the statehood resolution was passed, indicates that there is serious probability of the measure being passed over the president's veto there, though senate leaders say that there may be difficulty in getting a two-thirds vote if the strength of the administration is openly thrown against the resolution. But what congress may do is not concerning Mr. Taft so far as his policy with regard to the recall provision of the Arizona constitution is concerned.

His veto will be prompt and emphatic. The statehood bill will probably be the first measure of the extra session following reciprocity and re-appointmentment, which will be placed before him. He will open his fight immediately upon it.

Arizona and New Mexico will not become states so long as the recall feature is kept in the Arizona constitution if Mr. Taft can possibly help it.

The vote upon the bill in the senate which was placed before him in detail surprised him a good deal. The vote on the Nelson amendment, which provided for the elimination of the recall provision was 43 to 23. That so many senators should have waived their opposition to the recall principle simply to secure the passage of the bill seems incomprehensible to Mr. Taft. There is a provision in the bill that the judiciary recall shall again be voted on by the people of Arizona as a separate proposition, but this plan does not satisfy Mr. Taft. He is opposed to the recall of judges as a dangerous principle and does not consider that under any conditions it should be allowed in a state constitution.

Representative Flood of Virginia, who sponsored the resolution in the House, called at the White House and discussed the matter with the president. He professed to be greatly surprised at Mr. Taft's attitude and asserted that he had understood when the submission provision was added to the bill in the house that Mr. Taft's wish was to be freed from approving the recall provision and that it could be shown beyond doubt by a separate vote that the people of Arizona wanted it placed in their constitution. This was the reason for placing the resubmission provision to the bill. He added that the house would stand by the bill as it was and could pass it over the president's veto. He said further that the house would not accept such a provision as the Nelson resolution eliminating the recall provision or consider any suggestion for a new bill.

22 HORSES LOST IN FIRE

BLAZE IN A CHICAGO LIVERY STABLE IS CHARGED TO AN INCENDIARY.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Twenty-two fine horses perished in the stables of the H. A. Lewis livery, 9133 Erie avenue. The fire is believed by the police to have been the work of an incendiary, who is supposed to have thrown a lighted match into the basement of the stable.

The hay in the stalls was set on fire and twenty-two of the ninety-eight horses were suffocated or burned to death before they could be rescued.

MAIL THIEF RIFLES LETTERS

Flagman Sees Sack Cut Open at Bloomington—Arrest Follows.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 10.—A locked mail pouch received at the Monon station here from the Bloomington-Louisville accommodation train and to have been placed aboard the mail car of the Chicago express, was stolen from the platform just before the arrival of the train.

Amos Wiggins, aged twenty-five, was arrested and is being held until the inspector arrives from Cincinnati. The thief who took the sack carried it to the Hughes lumber yard, ripped it open and rifled the contents, scattering money orders, drafts and other valuable mail promiscuously. A flagman on the Chicago train saw a man cutting open the sack, reported the matter to the night agent and Chief Hensley with five assistants succeeded in locating Wiggins, seated in front of a saloon.

300 WITNESSES IN CASE

MANY WILL TESTIFY IN THE DYNAMITE TRIAL IN LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 10.—The prosecution in the McNamara alleged dynamite trial case will summon, it is said, 150 witnesses and the defense fully as many. Detectives are to be sent to all parts of the United States to summon persons who are wanted as witnesses.

The men detectives employed by the district attorney's office are not having the success in locating those who are wanted as the women detectives. One woman alone served fifty-two subpoenas in San Francisco and vicinity, where, it is said, the men could find none of the persons wanted.

RAILROAD CURVES MUST BE PROTECTED

In the near future all general managers of electric railroads operating in the state will be called before the state railroad commission and instructed that they must adopt some means of preventing accidents on dangerous curves on their lines.

Chairman Glasgow says he has personally written to four concerns that manufacture safety devices and as soon as he hears from them an order will be issued for the general managers of the electric lines to appear at the offices of the commission in Lansing. He says further, "The D. U. R. protects its crossings with devices, and I can see no reason why they cannot do the same with the curves. They must act at once."

ONE DRUNK PAYS COSTS, OTHER TAKES 10 DAYS IN ANN ARBOR

Two drunks who were picked up by the local officers Wednesday night were arraigned before the local justice this morning. Doctor Effinger who claimed Detroit as his home was on payment of $4.40 costs allowed to go on suspended sentence. George Johnson, an Armenian laborer, was fined the costs, $4.40, and being unable to produce the coin he was sent to the Ann Arbor jail for ten days.

Kelly Will Study Taxation Methods

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 10.—It is understood here that Patrick H. Kelly, former lieutenant governor of Michigan, is on his way to Wisconsin to study the methods in vogue there for the taxation of corporations, having gone to Madison almost directly from Washington, D. C. Very likely he and the other members of the commission on taxation systems will report a recommendation that will mean the fulfillment of one of Gov. Osborn's pet policies—the taxation of corporations for the support of the state.

This system being studied by the commission includes, it is reported here, the assessment and taxation of both the tangible and intangible property of corporations, the difference going to the state to pay its running expenses. Already the stories of the investigations being made in this and other counties of property values as compared with assessments, have scared some of the larger corporations. What effect this will have, if recommended by the commission and adopted by the state, is not generally known as yet, because the idea has been kept secret.

ATWOOD TO TRY 1,062 MILE SAIL

Aviator Leaves Milwaukee for New York Saturday.

EXPECTS TO FLY TEN DAYS

Boston Air Man Sends Spare
Machines to Toledo and Rochester
For Emergencies—Autos Will Carry Them Along Route.

New York, Aug. 10.—Harry N. Atwood, the Boston aviator, who won the trophy for an aeroplane flight from Boston to Washington, has arranged the details of his proposed flight from Milwaukee to New York, which, weather conditions being favorable, will start next Saturday afternoon in the Wisconsin city.

The flight will be made for a prize of $10,000 offered by Victor J. Evans, an attorney of Washington.

The distance covered by Andre Beaumont (Lieutenant Conneau, French navy) when he won the prize of $50,000 in the great British cross-country aeroplane race was 1,010 miles. The distance over the route from Milwaukee to New York that Atwood has mapped out will be 1,062 miles.

Atwood, who is at the Hotel Manhattan, said that he would leave Milwaukee, if the weather permits, next Saturday in time to reach Chicago before nightfall.

The following day will give an exhibition flight, to which no admission will be charged, and will then head for New York, making only such daylight stops as are necessary for fuel and inspection of his machine.

He hopes he will be able to land somewhere along the beach between Brighton and Coney Island within ten days after leaving Milwaukee.

The machine that will be used will be of the Wright type known as the Burgess-Wright aeroplane. The machine in which he will start from Milwaukee was shipped from Baltimore to Milwaukee last Saturday, while parts that may be necessary for repairs will be shipped this week to the various towns and cities named in the route outlined above.

In the event the machine he leaves Milwaukee in should be badly damaged Atwood will be permitted to resume his flight in another Wright machine, and for use in such an emergency two other machines have been shipped from Marblehead, Mass., one to Toledo and the other to Rochester.

The plan is that as soon as Atwood passes over Toledo the machine held in emergency there will immediately start to follow his route, being towed by a powerful automobile. A similar truck will be sent to Rochester, and the machine there will be taken in tow as soon as Atwood leaves that city.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 10.—Mark Felton was arrested in the vicinity of Fairmount and with him were Hester Hiles, thirteen years old, daughter of James H. Hiles of Hartford City, and Myrtle Bookout, fifteen years old, of Mill Grove.

The girls have been absent from home since July 31 and their parents had instituted a search which resulted in the arrest. Felton is twenty-two years old and well known in Fairmount.

Thieves Clean House of Furniture.
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 10.—John A. Kemper, an attorney of this city, reported to the police that during a two weeks' absence some one had taken all his furniture and household goods from his home, 2029 East Washington street. Neighbors said that they saw men hauling the furniture away but as Kemper had been gone some time they supposed he was moving.

FIND $200 PEARL IN CLAM

Three Wheaton Men Get Good Return
On Investment of 30 Cents.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 10.—Thirty-five cents was the price paid by John Collins, James Pucell and Stephen Stuart of Wheaton, employees of the A. E. & C. railroad for a $200 pearl. According to F. A. Copeland, Elgin jeweler, the pearl is one of the most beautiful that has ever been taken from the Fox river near Elgin. It is of a delicate lavender luster and is perfectly round. It weighs eight and three-fourths grains, an unusual weight for a lavender pearl.

While waiting at the watch factory switch at Elgin the trio purchased a bushel of clams from two small boys for 35 cents, much to the satisfaction of the boys. The pearl is in joint ownership, as the men each contributed to the purchase fund. Pearl hunters are taking advantage of the low water in the Fox river and hundreds are trying their luck at searching for clams. Not all are rewarded, but many are being rewarded for their efforts.

Injunction Against Voting Machines.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 10.—The constitutionality of the state law that provides for the purchase of voting machines is attacked in a suit filed here. When the commissioners of St. Joseph county were examining various kinds of machines on the eve of opening bids, and letting a contract for fifty of the devices at an estimated cost of $40,000 the proceedings were summarily stopped by the filing of an injunction by J. M. Chillas, a taxpayer.

FOREIGN STUDENTS EXCELL EVEN

CATALOGUES REQUESTED.

Ann Arbor, August 10.—The literary department of the U. of M. has received a request from the Chinese government for 100 catalogues of the university. It is an interesting fact that not a Chinese student last year in the literary department received a con or a pluck, even in English. Several were entered with some credit given for their own language, which was necessary in order that they might have the required entrance units, and so their work must have been particularly good or they could not have kept up the standard of scholarship which they did.

TAKE RECESS IN LORIMER PROBE

Committee Adjourns to Meet in Chicago in October.

HOLSTLAW CLOSES TESTIMONY

Declares He Considered the Money Received From Senator John Broderick As Gifts—Honey Springs a Surprise

Washington, Aug. 10.—The senate Lorimer committee adjourned its hearings in Washington to resume probably early in October in Chicago, at the call of Chairman Dillingham. Attorney Healy of the committee, announced that the list of witnesses summoned had been exhausted.

"And everybody else," he added.

The last session of the committee was occupied with the final cross-examination of D. W. Holstlaw, former state senator of Illinois, who asserts he received $2,500 for voting for Lorimer.

Holstlaw's statement to State's Attorney Burke, in which he said Senator Broderick offered $2,500 if he would vote for Lorimer, was read.

"You said you considered the $2,500 and $700 you received from John Broderick as gifts?" asked Senator Kenyon of Iowa.

"Yes sir."

"You didn't care particularly where it came from?" asked Chairman Dillingham.

"No, just as soon not know."

"If you considered it a gift, why didn't you tell your friends that someone thought so much of you as to make you a large present?"

"I didn't consider it much."

Holstlaw said he couldn't remember whether he had gone before the Sagamon county grand jury. Every question by the committee failed to arouse his memory. He was clear that he was taken before Judge Creighton, the indictment dismissed, and his $5,000 check in cash bail returned.

"That is all," declared Attorney Haney, ending the cross-examination.

Everybody in the room sat up in surprise. It had been expected that the cross-examination of Holstlaw would run the same length as with the other witnesses. Attorney Haney smiled at the sensation he had created.

KETCHELS ATTACK MOTHER

Brothers of Murdered Champion Arrested on Complaint of Parent.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Julia Ketchel, of this city, mother of the former middleweight pugilistic champion of the world, who was murdered, was made to feel the fighting qualities of her two sons the other night. Now she has had them arrested.

Mrs. Ketchel returned from a visit to Detroit and sent word to her sons, John and Aliver, aged twenty-three and twenty-one years respectively, to meet her at the depot. They failed to do so. On her arrival at home she chided them about their neglect. Then she says they attacked her. The assault was committed on the farm given to her by the champion before his murder and paid for from his ring winnings.

93 ARE DEAD IN CRASH OF SHIPS

French Steamer Emir Founders
Off Coast of Spain.

27 ARE SAVED BY RESCUERS

Disaster Caused by Collision with the British Steamer Silverton—Futile Efforts to Launch the Emir's Boats.

Gibraltar, Aug. 10.—Ninety-three persons drowned when the French steamer Emir foundered five miles east of Tarifa, Spain.

The Emir floated only a few minutes after colliding with another vessel. Sixty-nine passengers and twenty-four of its crew went down with the ship.

Twelve of the crew and fifteen of the passengers were saved. All the passengers were French.

The Emir sailed from here at 3 a. m. for a Moroccan port. An hour later, in a dense fog, it collided with the British steamer Silverton, bound from Newport, England, for Taranto, an Italian port.

The crew of the Silverton rescued twenty-seven of the Emir's passengers and crew. The Silverton later put in here with its starboard bow stove in and its forepeak full of water.

When the crash came the Emir's crew attempted to launch the boats, but the rammed vessel listed heavily under the force of the blow, making the efforts futile.

The ship filled with water rapidly and sank so suddenly that many of the seamen below decks were trapped. As the ship quivered it plunged beneath the waves, bow foremost, and disappeared almost instantly in sight of the crew of the Silverton.

Meanwhile the crew of the Silverton lost no time in launching boats and going to the rescue. They worked desperately to take the people off the doomed ship, but succeeded in getting only one boat load off when the Emir sank.

The town of Tarifa is the ancient headquarters of the Spanish pirates who held up and robbed ships as they entered the Mediterranean. From this lawless custom of the brigands of the sea comes the modern word tariff, with which the public is familiar.

A WASHINGTON-GETTYSBURG ROAD.

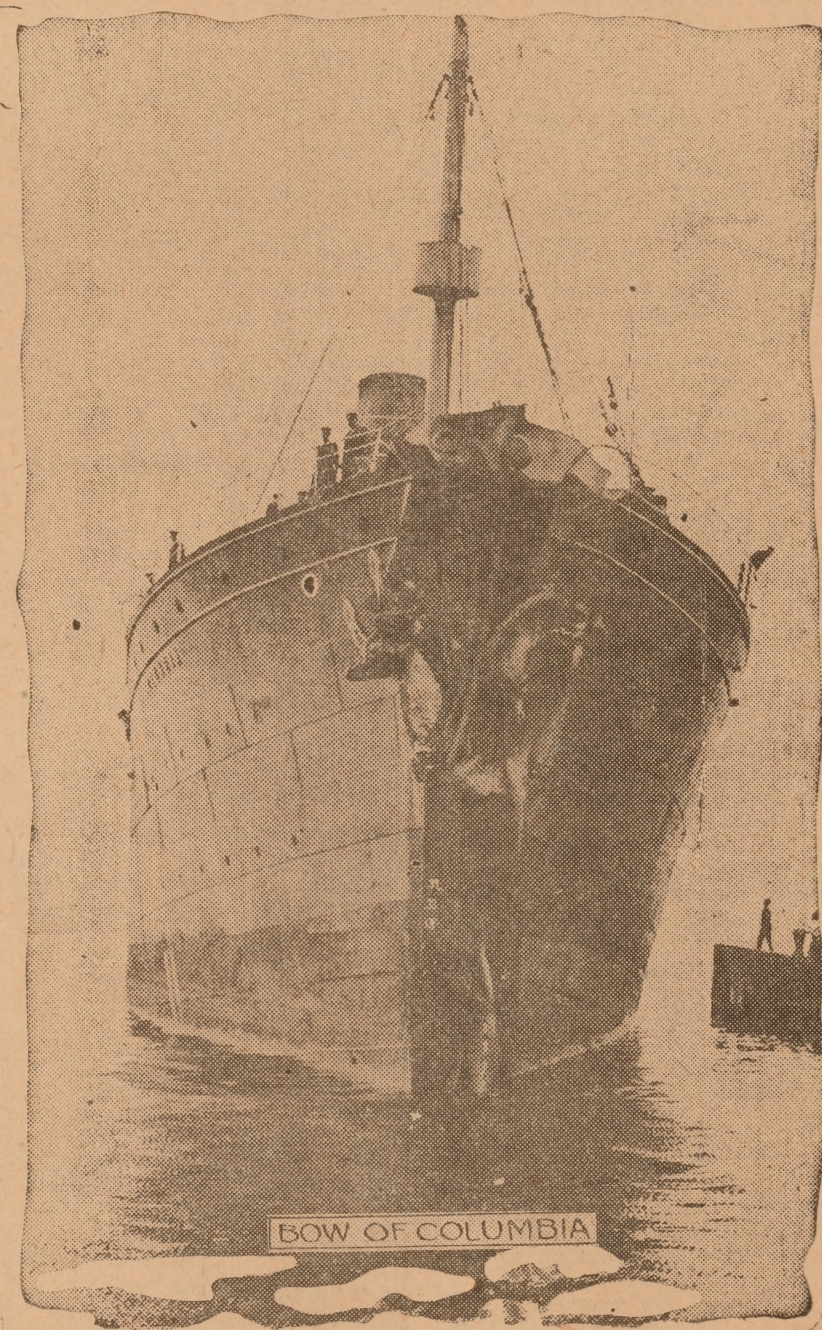

Washington, Aug. 10.—Speaker Clark in a formal announcement came out in favor of a highway from Washington to Gettysburg battle field as a memorial to Lincoln instead of the shaft or monument proposed to be erected in Potomac park or elsewhere in Washington.

Speaker Clark's announcement followed an interview which President Taft granted to Representative Borland and a delegation which called at the White House to voice the sentiments of those in congress who favor a highway.

YOUNG BUFFALO ARRIVED TODAY

Young Buffalo with his wild west performers arrived this morning and seems well prepared for the high-class productions promised this afternoon and evening. At 10:30 this morning the pioneer exhibition which included mounted cowboys and cow girls, wild west bands, pack mules, stage coach and Indians and the $10,000 ox team hitched to a prairie schooner left the show grounds on South Hamilton St. and for an hour paraded through the principal streets of the city. On the line of march exhibitions were given of bucking bronchos by some of the women riders.

Two performances are billed one was at 2 o'clock this afternoon and one will be at 8 o'clock this evening.

New York, August 10.—Crowds of curious sightseers have been attracted by the havoc wrought on the steamship Columbia off Cape Race by a huge iceberg. The bows of the liner are crushed in to such an extent that one can only marvel how she managed to make port. Her heavy bow plates are driven back seven feet. Her bows penetrated the ice pack, which was several hundreds yards long, about twelve feet. The passengers say that only the coolness and prompt action of Captain Mitchell, who was on the bridge when the crash came, saved the lives of the passengers. The Columbia was going about eight knots an hour in a fog when the accident occurred.

"WHAT IS SOCIALISM?"

Considerable attention is given to the subject of "The War of the Classes," because if this be true, and the Socialist insists that it is incontestable, then, in all probability, it is a war to the end. The Socialist claims that "nobody" denies the advance of the democratic form of government. Once that form of government is thoroughly established, the concentration of wealth bars the escape by climbing upward of the employee from his own class, makes the Capitalistic class grow steadily smaller and the Proletariat steadily larger. Thus, as political parties necessarily exist only because they represent the economic needs of the social class, the republic becomes, naturally, divided into two political parties, the Capitalistic class and its friends on the one hand and the employed class upon the other; an involuntary and automatic organization of individuals results, and as soon as this organization, through propaganda and education, realizes its own needs, its inherent antagonism to the opposing party and its vast majority in the ballot-box, it will employ that majority for the accomplishment of what it believes to be the welfare of the majority, for the satisfaction of its own needs, and for the overthrow of its opponents.

And the Socialist, having persuaded himself that there are only two classes in this country, the employer and the employed, and that their differences are about to be settled through political parties, he expresses it as his view that the Republican party, more nearly than the Democratic party, represents the employing class, that the Democratic party, which during the last few campaigns, has not put up any distinctive issues, will have to be reorganized or give way to some other party which he thinks will represent the employed class, the large majority of our people.

And, to the contention of Capitalism, "that the law guarantees justice to both sides, the Socialist justifies. "Granted; but does it make good its guarantee?" And he contends that it does not; that the ruling class, through the legislature and church, are the same today as they have been in former times. He says, in support of his claims, that the laboring class is not equal before the law in some of the injunctions which have been issued against labor.

He cites the one against the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers about a decade ago which prohibited them "from peacefully discussing the merits of their claim with the men that were at work, even though the latter might raise no objection." And the International Typographical Union in their controversy with the New York Sun, an injunction was issued by which they were forbidden to publish their statement of the case as a reason why the friends of unionism should not advertise in a non-union paper, and the same union, when it fell out of the Buffalo Express, it is claimed, was served with an injunction forbidding the strikers to discuss the strike or the paper in any manner "which might be construed as being against the paper."

And it is claimed that in the International Cigar-makers' Union strike, they were even enjoined against calling on those employers in an endeavor to bring about a peaceable settlement. And so he claims that Class Struggle has become a war of organized labor against organized capital, and that it is to assist "the formation of Class-Consciousness among the workers, to educate the wage-earner from violence to politics, and to hasten the appeal to the ballot—when the majority, which is the employed, shall, at the polls, front the minority, which is the employers—that the Socialist political party has been formed."

Cold Comfort.

Douglas Jerrold's wit made it difficult for him to be the "ministering angel" that a man of less humor might have been to friends in trouble. The writer, George Huddle, went to Jerrold one day to tell him of difficulties into which he had fallen. "I want you to help me," he said. "The Morning Gazette has dismissed me."

"You don't say," my dear George, they've had a gleam of intelligence at last," "Don't joke," retorted Huddle. "I really want your advice. I'm thinking of going into the coal trade."

"Capital!" said Jerrold. "You've got the sack to begin with!"—Youth's Companion.

Marlette Hotelman Accuses Board of Diverting Funds.

Marlette, Mich., Aug. 10.—A big row is on here between the village and M. J. Lynch, proprietor of the Marlette house, and the matter has finally gone to the courts. Recently the water board shut off the water from Mr. Lynch's premises, charging that he had not paid the water rates due.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

WHY CAMPBELL LEFT BASEBALL

Midwinter Diamond Conversations Worried Him.

Wherever He Went Pittsburgh Youngster Was Quizzed by Talkative Bugs About National Pastime—Fred Clarke Also a Talk Victim.

Nothing is so nauseating to the ball player as the pestiferous fan who insists upon talking to and making the acquaintance of every ball tosser. The bug who calls the ball player by his first name on the street is never liked by the exponent of the national pastime. On the contrary, he is despised. The traveling man who butts into the ball players' conversation in the hotel lobby is lucky to get away without his facial architecture materially changed. But so long as the baseball is the national game so long will the ball players be pestered by the bugs.

We know of one instance where a great young player gave up a lucrative position on the diamond because he couldn't stand to be the target for an endless amount of insane questions shot his way by the idol worshippers. The player in question was Vincent Campbell, who lately returned to the Pittsburgh club.

Campbell quit baseball at the windup of the 1910 season, after he had made one of the greatest records of any young fielder in the game, simply because he was obliged to talk "shop" everywhere he went during the winter. Whether in a cafe, ballroom, drawing room or on the streets, Campbell's friends invariably made baseball the sole topic of conversation when he was around. It seemed as though these "friends" figured that unless they talked baseball they would not make a "hit" with Mr. Campbell. Now, quite the contrary is true. Had they talked of reciprocity, of which Campbell knows little, he would have been infinitely more pleased.

Or had they talked about logarithms or anything else but baseball Vin would be much more at home.

Campbell is not an exception. Rather he is the rule. Ball players never want to talk "shop." They never want to discuss "today's game," especially with a man who is not a player. Occasionally a ball player will become much enthused with a baseball argument if some technical point of the game is involved. If he can talk with a man who can converse intelligently on the great game he is pleased, but there are so few who really know baseball that a player is taking a chance all the time.

Fred Clarke, manager of the Pirates, was driven to an obscure farm in Kansas by the pestiferous fan. Most ball players who realize that they can make a bit of money out of baseball like to a farm in the off season simply to avoid the talkative bug. Many players like Campbell quit the game rather than be pestered to death with the lifeless arguments of their alleged friends and admirers.

When Campbell was requested to rejoin the Pirates in St. Louis recently he was asked why he didn't report at the start of the season.

"Didn't you like your contract?" said Clarke to the young broker.

"Yes," was Campbell's reply.

"Well, didn't you like the players?" continued Clarke.

"Yes," was Campbell's answer.

"What's the matter, then?" demanded Clarke.

"Well," said Campbell, "I can't stand to be talking baseball all winter."

"That's my fix exactly," said Clarke. "I can't stand the bugs, so every winter I hike away to a farm in Kansas. The fans have driven me to that farm, for I refuse to have my peace of mind upset all winter."

CHINA TO SEND ATHLETES.

Will Have Strong Representation in Olympic Games of 1912.

When the arrangements for the Olympic games in 1912 are definitely settled the committee believes they will show a more completely international participation than ever before. For one thing, unless present plans go astray there will be a strong and picturesque Chinese team in the stadium.

The American athletic trainer Mr. Beal, who is selecting the team in China, has written to the Swedish authorities that his men are sure to put in an appearance provided the question of the heavy cost of travel is overcome by the granting of reduced fares over the Russian railways.

To bring about this result the Swedish committee has stirred up the Russian committee, which in turn is bringing pressure to bear on the Russian railway authorities, so it is tolerably certain the orientals will have a chance to show their athletic mettle in contests with the westerners next summer.

200 Dogs Entered in Manitoba Trials.

Two or three hundred dogs from all over the United States and Canada will be entered in the annual Manitoba field trials, open to bird dogs only, which will be pulled off in September on the prairies west of Winnipeg. The great event is the Derby for dogs under two years old.

DIAMOND POINTERS

In Lewis, Speaker and Hooper the Boston Americans have one of the greatest "throwing" base running and ground covering outfielders in the country.

Danny Murphy, the Athletics' right fielder, says that the New York Americans have too many signals. Too many signs, according to Dan, are too much of a task for the ordinary run of ball tossers.

There will be two Heinie Zimmermans with the Chicago Nationals next season. The new "Heinie" hails from the Atlanta club of the Southern league and plays center field. He stole 105 bases last season.

One of the biggest disappointments of the season is Cunningham, Washington's second baseman. Last fall he looked like a sure coming star; this season he is a complete failure at the bat and far from brilliant in the field.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh Nationals wears two caps on a hot day—not both at once, but in rotation. As soon as the perspiration makes one bonnet damp and uncomfortable he beckons a boy, and out trots the youth with a new white headgear. Quite a novel idea.

JIMMY SHECKARD, CUBS' GREAT LEAD-OFF MAN.

though he did not join it until 1906, when he was obtained in a trade with Brooklyn. He has been playing ball since 1898, when he started with Brooklyn in the New England league. He was drafted that fall by Brooklyn and sent to Baltimore for the season of 1899. Recalled for 1900, he was with Brooklyn for six years. Sheckard was born in 1879. The only indication he gives of reaching the age limit is in the taking on of flesh. Jimmy is positively fat, but that is not a great handicap to a man who walks to base in preference to doing the Cobb stunt. During the illness of Chance Sheckard is acting manager of the Cubs.

MAEK ADVISES OUTFIELDERS TO PLAY OUT.

Connie Maek has instructed the Athletic outfielders to play about twenty feet farther out than the fielders of the other teams. Connie figures it is much easier to come forward on the lively ball than to go back for it.

Cultivate Ideals.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and, following them, you reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz

The Comeback.

"Wife—"To be frank with you, if you were to die I should certainly marry again." Husband—"I've no objection. I'm not going to worry about the troubles of a fellow whom I shall never know."—Variety Life.

Indictment of Mankind.

Few things are needed to make a wise man happy; nothing can make a fool content; that is why most men are miserable.—La Rouchefoucauld.

Matty Knows How to Loaf.

Christy Mathewson may be the most scientific "loafer" in the box today, with the supreme ability to tighten up when he has to, but he never favors himself in fielding his position. In fielding ground balls he always goes the limit.

Home Fans Roast Stars.

Detroit and Pittsburgh Rooters Do Not Appreciate Cobb and Wagner.

It is strange, but true, that two of the greatest ball players the game has ever known are not appreciated in their own cities. Neither Cobb nor Wagner is popular with the home fans, and the abuse showered on Cobb by Detroit fans the other day was so severe that Cobb quit a game and expressed himself as anxious to get away from the Tigers. For several years the hardest place for Hans Wagner to play has been in Pittsburgh. Every time he fails to hit on the home grounds he is jeered, and if he happens to make an error there is a genuine uprising of the fans. One would naturally suppose that players of the remarkable ability of Cobb and Wagner would be idols at home, and yet they are anything but that. In that respect Washington crowds differ greatly from those in other cities. Patrons of the game in the Capital City are most appreciative. It was noticeable in a recent game there when the Athletics were pounding Walter Johnson that he was applauded every time he stepped to the plate, where if he had been playing in some other city he would have been jeeted.

Americans Need Distance Runners.

Hugh H. Baxter, the former pole vault champion, who is sojourning in England, declares in a letter to James E. Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic association that America must develop more distance runners if we want to make a clean sweep in the Olympic games this year.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ— Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does, TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.
